

NOWHERE TO RUN | I QUIT
JONAH 1:1-16

Prophets aren't supposed to run, they're supposed to call people to turn to God. Wicked nations aren't supposed to repent and experience revival, they're just supposed to keep being wicked. But amidst the surprises in the Book of Jonah there is one constant: God is overwhelmingly gracious and merciful toward all who turn to Him. As we look at chapter one of Jonah we see a prophet who essentially quits on God and tries to run as far as he can. He acts much like his nation Israel. In spite of this, we see God pursue him. Why did Jonah run? How do we avoid being like him?

1. Jonah was likely motivated to run by _____.

2. Jonah was motivated to run because he did not _____ _____ God's plan.

3. Jonah ran because he was a picture of his _____.
