

JUDGES | THE MIRACULOUS PROVISION
JUDGES 13:1-25

As we resume our series on Judges, the setting is the 12th century B.C. As much as we long for things to be different, they are predictably the same. Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord. The Lord delivered them over to their enemies. This time it would be the Philistines. The Philistines were of Greek background and culture and were driven into Canaan by the Egyptians about 1200 B.C. They were mortal enemies that the Israelites would encounter for decades and decades. Israel had one advantage, their God, the one true God, had made a covenant with them. Despite their behavior earning His righteous judgment for a time, His steadfast love and grace was again and again poured out upon them. We see God raise up yet another judge. He is one of the most famous yet flawed judges of Israel. In what ways does God demonstrate His grace in Samson's birth story?

1. God that demonstrates His grace by delivering the _____ in _____ ways.

2. God demonstrates His grace by _____ _____ where were at when we genuinely _____ Him.

3. God demonstrates His grace by _____ through us _____ our flaws.
