MATTHEW 11:25-30

After Jesus instructed His disciples, He went out to teach and preach in the cities of Israel. While teaching He received a question from someone who arguably was His biggest fan, John the Baptist. John called Jesus the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world, and trained some of His disciples before they became "the Twelve". He needed assurance from Jesus and Jesus met him in a moment of darkness. He also commended him before the crowd. After commending John, He pronounced judgement on the cities that refused Him. Israel's establishment rejected Jesus and were set to the side. But Jesus offered one of the most wonderful invitations in all of Scripture to the individuals He encountered. It is an invitation for all of us today. What does Jesus reveal about the sovereignty of God and what is His invitation?

1. God is _____ and reveals Himself through His _____ to those who are of no _____ according to the world.
2. Jesus provides _____ and the life of a _____ to those who receive His invitation to come.
3. Jesus imparts on us a _____ burden that includes His _____ and _____ to those who receive His invitation.
